

by: Ty Grunzeback

---

Some kids don't read well, and it can be scary to have to read out loud. If the teacher reads the story and some kids act it out, then nobody has to take turns reading. Parents and teachers: for more information, read "Welcoming Children with Special Needs," available at the UUA Bookstore (<http://www.uua.org/bookstore/>).